PROFILE

Hi,

My name is Wim, a junior full-stack developer with a preference in backend development. My field of interest is broad. I have obtained a professional bachelor in the applied informatics, software development.

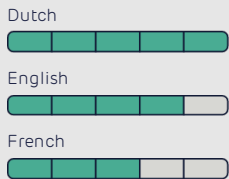

In my spare time, I'm eager to learn new things in many fields. I like to be creative, which allows me to think out of the box. I like to think about solutions, that's the main reason why I like software development.
